7.2.1 INSTITUTIONAL BEST PRACTICES

BEST PRACTICE 1:

STUDENT WELFARE SCHEMES

The students are crucial and important part of the institutional activities. Any activity organized by the institution is done keeping in mind its benefit and utility to the students. Students come from different backgrounds and have different needs and aspirations. The institution assists them in achieving their goals by trying to provide them with the type of support needed by them, be it financial, academic, moral, or emotional. The college has a large number of students coming from the socio-economically weaker section who are mostly first-generation learners. Nearly 70% of student's strength is female. Many students are unable to continue higher studies due to financial constraints. They require financial and moral support to pursue higher education.

A. BOOK BANK FACILITY

Goals:

- To provide subject textbooks for financially backward students.
- To provide helping hands for needy students trying to achieve higher education.

Context:

Book Bank facility is available in our college since the inception of the college. Book Bank facility is provided to Economically Backward Class and deserving students on receipt of their requisite forms. Due notice of book bank is published on all the notice boards at the time of admissions. Study materials (syllabus) are issued semester-wise to students for the whole year and taken back after the final examination is over.

Practices included in the scheme are as follows:

- Notices are put up in the library and circulated in the classrooms at the beginning of the academic year.
- Book bank forms are issued from the library to the students along with instructions.
- Scrutiny of forms is done by the librarian & recommendation list is prepared.

Context:

The Skill-based Certificate courses are implemented for student's benefit which is required for personal and professional success. These courses offer training in areas such as critical thinking, collaboration, problem-solving, and flexibility, which are highly valued in today's job market. Beyond academics, activities are organized that connect students with society, fostering a sense of civic duty and social responsibility. Most of the students are local residents and are aware of the problems in the society. Many people living in the adjoining area belong to low-income groups with poor literacy rates and are unaware of many health and environmental issues. Our students fill in the gap by reaching out to them through various societal-oriented activities taken up by the extension units of the institution. The students get exposure to the practical work experience and make a positive contribution to the society. In this process good institution-community network is established which benefits the society by improving quality of life and creating responsible citizenship.
